

DAVID WEBBER

David Webber is the NIEM and Open Data lead with Oracle Public Sector.

David has over 6 years experience with NIEM, is a member of the NIEM NTAC and has been working with XML and related standards since their inception.

He leads the development work on the CAM and Open-XDX open source toolkit sponsored by Oracle that provides key support for developers using XML, JSON and SQL stores with NIEM.

David has over thirty years experience in the software industry and twenty years Federal, State and Local application delivery experience here in the US.

David holds two US patents for XML related technologies and has a degree in Physics with Computing.