

Denzil Wasson

Everware-CBDI CTO, Denzil Wasson is a professional systems architect with 23 years of diverse systems experience. Denzil drives the realization of real world, open and standards based Customer solutions through the innovative application of advanced architectures, technologies and methodologies. Mr.

Wasson has played key lead architecture roles on various Commercial, State and Federal program initiatives. Mr. Wasson's dual roles of consulting to Everware-CBDI's Customers and leading research and development facilitates the introduction of new technologies and approaches into Customer engagements. Mr. Wasson's current areas of focus for consulting and research and development are: Iterative Development, Service Oriented Architecture (SOA), Cloud Oriented Solutions, Model Driven Development (MDD), Semantic Technologies and Application Portfolio Modernization (AM).