Dr. Baruch Will Be Discussing:

2. Wallach has applied his extensive research and practice as a Naturopathic Physician to create a suite of nutritional supplements that are needed by every cell, tissue, and organ, every day in a absorbable form.

3. This suite of nutritional supplements are available through his company, Youngevity, which has enjoyed amazing growth through network marketing, diversification by acquisition of about 25 companies, and introduction into many countries of the world. Dr. Wallach says this is the way he reaches an estimated 3-5 million people a day, instead of about 50/day a regular doctor may see.

4. The opportunity that Dr. Wallach and Youngevity offers is two-fold: try it yourself and prove to yourself that it has significant health and wellness benefits; and become a distributor to help others enjoy those benefits and supplement your income.

5. Dr. Wallach's lectures and the many excellent events sponsored by Youngevity distributors provide an opportunity to learn more details about the relationships between diseases and nutritional deficiencies, how to best use the suite of Youngevity products yourself, and how to become a successful distributor, if you are willing and able to spend enough time over the next 6-12 months.
